13 County Banks Will Send $429,157 To 6,261 Christmas Club Members By December 1st.

Thirteen Adams county banks soon will place in the mails checks representing the largest distribution of pre-holiday shopping funds ever accumulated in this county by Christmas club members.

By December 1 the Christmas club savings, which this year soared to a new record high in Adams county of $429,157, will be in the hands of the 6,261 club members.

The average check this year will be for $68.54.

Last year 12 banks distributed $400,021 to 6,019 countians with the average check being $66.46.

This year's new high represents a steady climb in total club savings during recent years. In 1948, county banks distributed $375,776. The total in 1947 was $354,708; 1946, $397,076, and in 1945, $252,000.

Open 1951 Clubs

Part of the growth in the Christmas club figures in Adams county this year was due to the formation of a club by another bank, the East Berlin National. Now only the Abbottstown State bank is without a Christmas club in this county. All banks conducting clubs this year are preparing to open 1951 clubs soon.

The largest Christmas club sum in the county was at the Gettysburg National bank where 1,553 members will be mailed checks totaling $112,753.25. This report compares with the $101,189.80 sent to 1,449 members last year.

The largest club membership in the county was attained by the First National bank of Gettysburg where there were 1,625 accounts with a total balance of $96,000. Last year that bank reported 1,618 members in its club and they received $95,250. Checks go out December 1.

Third Largest Club

The Littlestown State bank continued in third position with a club that numbered 763 and saved $58,400 during the year. The checks will be mailed December 1. Last year that bank had 788 club members and their savings totaled $55,085.

Fourth in line in the club conducted by the Farmers' bank of McSherrystown where 700 checks totaling $40,042.50 will be sent out December 1. Last year the bank had 800 members in its club who received $44,600.

The Littlestown National bank has a club with 450 members and savings that total $39,424. Their checks will go out December 1.

Other Banks' Reports

The other banks that conducted clubs this year reported these figures today:

Farmers and Merchants' bank of New Oxford, 502 members to divide $31,697 on December 1.

First National bank of Fairfield, 138 members to share $11,500 as compared with $8,700 last year to 114 members. Checks will go out November 27.

COUNTY WOMAN ACQUITTED ON RELIEF CHARGE

Mrs. Lulu Thompson, Iron Springs, was found innocent late Tuesday afternoon of charges of violation of the public assistance law.

In returning its verdict at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the jury agreed that Mrs. Thompson, who had accepted social security while receiving assistance, and who failed to notify the assistance board that she had the additional income, did so because she was ignorant of what was expected of her as a relief recipient.

The fact that Mrs. Thompson is unable to read or write was mentioned frequently by the defense during the course of the trial. Mrs. Thompson testified that she is unable to read or write and did not know she was doing anything wrong in accepting assistance and social security at the same time.

Ignorant Of Law

She told the jury she didn't know there was any difference between the checks she received from social security and those she obtained as an assistance recipient, pointing out that she can't read or write.

Under cross examination she said, in answer to a question as to how she obtained the social security checks, "my sister-in-law had that fixed up at Hanover." Asked if she had signed any papers to obtain the social security she said, "I doubt that I signed up."

Mrs. George Stauffer, assistance board visitor, had testified that she asked Mrs. Thompson concerning income from social security and that Mrs. Thompson answered she did not receive any other income until confronted with evidence obtained from social security.

Asked if the visitor had queried her about the matter, the Iron Springs woman answered, "I can't recall I answered. I can't read or write so I didn't know if I would answer right or not."

Signed Relief Checks

Mrs. Thompson was charged with making false statements to obtain relief. One of the charges was based (Continued on Page 3)

MISSING COUNTY SOLDIER KILLED IN KOREAN WAR

Cpl. William M. Baumgardner, Fairfield R. 1, the first Adams county soldier reported missing in action during the Korean war, has now been officially listed as killed in action. His death occurred July 12 according to a War Department telegram received by his mother Mrs. Sarah E. Baumgardner, Fairfield R. 1, the same date that he was listed as missing in action in Korea. The telegram gave no further details, adding that they would be sent later.

When she received the telegram on July 27 stating that her son was missing in action the 80 year old Mrs. Baumgardner expressed the hope that her son would return. "He always knew how to take care of himself," she said. At the same time she seemed reconciled to the loss, telling a reporter, "That's what you've got to expect when they're in the army." Corporal Baumgardner had served nearly 20 years in the army.

Native Of County

Born on the small farm, where his mother lives, on September 19, 1906, he attended school for a short time and then went to work as a handyman, painter and carpenter in Fairfield, Gettysburg and elsewhere in Adams county.

His father, Elmer died 17 years ago. Baumgardner served in the army prior to World War II, and then when that war began he enlisted. He went to Japan on July 4, 1949.

The news of his death came at a time when three of Corporal Baumgardner's seven children are scheduled to be home for the Thanksgiving holiday. The three, Paul, a student at Penn State; Barbara, a student at Western Maryland college. Westminster, and Robert, Harrisburg, are scheduled to arrive today to visit with their grandmother and with their uncles and aunts. The half dozen or so farmers who were on hand for the special pre-Thanksgiving session of the Farmers' market this morning had for sale almost everything it takes to make a good holiday dinner, but they were no means rushed with business. Patronage was "fair" at times and dull at other points during the morning.

Turkeys sold at 55 cents a pound for toms and 65 cents a pound for hens. Ducks were 60 cents a pound and chickens 55 and 60 cents a pound. Other offerings, including apples, potatoes, sweet potatoes, celery, cabbage, turnips and pumpkins showed no change from last Saturday's prices.

"Ideal" Prison Conditions Here

Harrisburg, Nov. 22 (AP) — Stringent inspections were credited today with improving conditions in county prisons in Pennsylvania.

Fred W. Brady, director of the state bureau of penal affairs, listed only 11 county jails as "poor" for 1950, in comparison with 20 for 1949.

Brady cited prisons in Adams and Bradford counties as institutions that approach idealistic conditions.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE STAFF WORK OUTLINED BY DR. COLEMAN

The staff and employees of the Gettysburg National Park office have many and varied duties, one of the most important of which is the maintenance of friendly and courteous relations with the public, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent, told members of the Exchange club at its regular weekly dinner meeting at Banker's restaurant Tuesday night.

The public relations part of the work involves answering many questions relative to the battlefield and the events which transpired here during and since the battle, he said. "Some of these questions may verge on the ridiculous, but all of them receive courteous answers," he said.

Supervises 4 Shrines

Recently received a letter from a Franklin county resident asking if the peace light had been burning continuously since the Civil war," he said. "Of course, we answered the letter and told her that the light had been burning since the erection of the memorial, but was not lit immediately after the war."

The Gettysburg office does the buying and the bookkeeping for not only the Gettysburg national park and cemetery, but for Fort Mifflin, Antietam and Fort Necessity, Dr. Coleman said. He is in charge of all four national shrines.

"We have 115 buildings to look after," he said. "Here in Gettysburg there are 30 miles of roads and 60 miles of fences to be kept in repair. There are 405 cannon to be painted. And not the least of our tasks is in making our appropriation stretch as far as possible. We now receive $80,000 a year, compared to $50,000 several years ago, when laborers could be hired for 40 cents an hour."

Dr. Coleman said that the work of government employees is often difficult and at times dangerous. He cited the park wardens, forest rangers, coast guard, secret service and other branches of government service where employees face hard work, difficult tasks and perform duties involving great danger in the course of their ordinary employment.

In the enforcement of battlefield regulations, the governing factor is the use of "common sense," he said. (Continued on Page 4)

CLASS HONORS MRS. TATE ON 87TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Annie Tate, who has taught a Sunday school class for the last 65 years and continues to be a regular attendant at Sunday school and church, was honored by members of her class of the Gettysburg Methodist church Tuesday evening upon the occasion of her 87th birthday anniversary.

There were tall white candles and a birthday cake with candles in addition to flowers to decorate the meeting room. Mrs. Lila Craig, class president presented Mrs. Tate with a purse, a gift from the class and Mrs. Tate responded briefly asking the class members to continue their loyalty to the class, the church and their pastor.

Sixteen members of the class attended the session which opened with devotions led by Miss Margaret McMillan on the theme of "Thanksgiving." Miss McMillan also gave a short talk on Pitman center, a missionary project.

Enjoy Social Hour

Mrs. Craig conducted the business session at which plans were made for a soup salad December 7. The class also voted to make a donation to the local A.M.E. Zion church at its anniversary service next Sunday.

Former County Girl Suggests Daily Prayer For Armed Services

A suggestion that radio stations devote one minute daily to prayer for American fighting forces overseas, will be followed by many Washington, D. C., area radio stations as the result of a suggestion recently to President Truman by Linda Keller, 13, Hyattsville, Md., who formerly resided at Cashtown.

The former county girl sent a penny postcard to President Truman on which the following was written: "My name is Linda Keller, 6811 Riggs Manor drive. I am 13 years old. I think it would be nice if at 12 noon all radio programs and work would be stopped and everyone would pray for the boys overseas. God will surely protect us all. Sincerely, Linda Keller."

President Truman forwarded the card to the Armed Forces Chaplain board which agreed to publicize the contents. Rear Admiral Salisbury, chairman of the board, wrote a letter of thanks to Linda.

A number of radio stations in and about Washington announced they will follow the suggestion, some placing the prayer period on their programs at 11 a.m. Armed Forces chaplains and clergymen will participate.

Miss Keller spent most of her life in Cashtown with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Guyer. She attended the Franklin Township consolidated school. At present she is an eighth grade student at the Brentwood school at Hyattsville. Her parents reside in the Washington area.

This evening at 9:30 o'clock Miss Keller will appear on the television program of "We the People" from New York city.

Crews Rush Work On Christmas Tree, Lincoln Cabin And Street Decorations For Yule Season

The Christmas lights in Gettysburg's business district will be turned on at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night, with Glenn Guise, president of the Exchange club, throwing the switch and a Santa Claus on hand to present candy to the children.

With the assistance of employees of the Metropolitan Edison company and the Adams Electric Cooperative, Inc., further progress was being made today in stringing the colored lights and putting up the laurel on the ornamental light standards around Lincoln Square and on York, Baltimore, Chambersburg and Carlisle streets.

Arrange Laurel

Members of the Exchange club, which is sponsoring the Christmas lighting and decorations this year, worked until a late hour Tuesday night after their regular meeting winding laurel for the decorations.

Exchange club members Tuesday brought a large Christmas tree to Gettysburg and it was erected in the center plot of Lincoln Square. Today additional Christmas trees were cut by club members and arranged around the large tree. Lights will be strung on the trees.

A log cabin and the figure of a Santa Claus will be placed beneath the large tree, facing up Baltimore street. The Exchange club will also place a letter box on the square, where children may mail their requests to Santa.

Play Xmas Music

The Chamber of Commerce will provide a Santa Claus for the ceremony of turning on the lights Saturday night, and the Gettysburg fire company will furnish a fire truck, on which Santa will ride around the town before going to the square to hand out the candy, also provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber will place a loud speaker in one of the windows of its office, and Christmas carols will be played, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

REAL ESTATE DEALER FROM YORK ON TRIAL

Whether H. Jay Huff, York real estate dealer, is guilty of fraudulent conversion in connection with the sale of property of Martin Diller, Abbottstown, was being considered by an Adams county jury today.

Huff, according to the testimony of the Commonwealth this morning, is charged with having received $2,850 for a farm and with having paid $2,035 to the Dillers from the transaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Diller told the jury that they had agreed to sell the property for $2,200 with Huff as the agent. After the property was sold, they said, they received $2,035 from Huff, or $2,200 minus Huff's 7 1/2 per cent commission.

Harry King, the purchaser of the six-acre tract near Abbottstown said he paid $2,850 to Huff for the property. Huff is charged with having converted $650 to his own use, the difference between the $2,200 asked by the Dillers and the $2,850 for which he sold the land.

Four Women On Jury

Victor Dell'Alba and Benjamin Weinbrou, York attorneys, are representing Huff, with Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., as local counsel.

The jury hearing the case includes Mrs. Alma Bowers, Stevens street; William Christman, Chambersburg street; Clarence W. Epley, Jr., 257 Highland avenue; John H. Fickinger, Littlestown; Lewis H. Fox, Littlestown; James Gallagher, Cashtown; James Harper, Fairfield; Pauline Kemper, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Naomi Lippy, Littlestown R. 1; P. S. Peters, Bendersville; Henry Wagner, Table Rock, and Mrs. Thelma Zhea, South Washington street.

The court Tuesday signed a decree nisi barring W. H. Lanus, his heirs and assigns from any right to land on which the Gettysburg borough sewer system is now located. Under the action the Lanus heirs now have 30 days in which to protest or the title to the land will be declared quiet and the borough full owners of the property.

Oppose Removal Of Lincoln Plot

Salome M. Stewart, Tent No. 55 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War Gettysburg, Pennsylvania November 10, 1950

Gettysburg Borough Council Mr. H. M. Oyler, President Gettysburg, Pennsylvania Gentlemen:

The officers and members of our Tent have decided to add to the protest against the proposed removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square. We echo the sentiments of the Sons of Union Veterans and their Auxiliary.

In Chambersburg and Hanover, the center plots are retained, and the space is utilized for markers which commemorate particular events which occurred before and during the Battle of Gettysburg. Why cannot Gettysburg do the same?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Esther Hayberger,
President.

ALTER PATTERN FOR YEARLY "AG" SESSIONS HERE

This year's annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association will be held at morning and afternoon sessions at the court house here during the period between Christmas and New Years Day. The exact date has not been set.

Those decisions were made by the executive board of the extension association at its meeting Tuesday evening at the Adams Electric offices on North Stratton street. For the past several years the annual meeting has been held in the form of an evening session.

The board voted to revert to the all-day sessions again this year, believing that as a result more members can attend the meetings. By placing the time between Christmas and New Year's, it was felt, more 4-H members, who, during that time are on vacation from school, can attend.

To Realign Districts

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh spoke to the committee Tuesday evening on the various school jointures established in the county.

The executive board voted to realign the sub-districts into which it for years has divided the county for community work, so that they will be in conformity with the school jointure districts.

Reports were presented at the meeting by County Agent M. T. Hartman, Assistant County Agent Ira N. Dummire and the home economics extension representative, Miss Mary Jane Mickey, on their work during the past month.

President Harry E. Brown presided at the meeting. Pumpkin pies made by the six women members of the board, ice cream and coffee were served following the session.

Elks' Ruler Will Visit Local Lodge

An official visit will be paid to the Gettysburg Lodge of Elks next Monday evening by Joseph B. Kyle, Gary, Ind., grand exalted ruler of the Elks. A dinner will be served for members in his honor at 7 o'clock.

The lodge will hold its annual memorial services Sunday evening, December 3, at 8:45 o'clock at the lodge home. The Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of the Christ Lutheran church, will be the speaker.

Ladies Plan Supper At Country Club

The ladies of the Gettysburg Country club will hold a covered dish supper Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the clubhouse. The championship golf trophies and tournament prizes will be awarded at this time. Following the supper, bridge and canasta will be played. Each member is asked to bring a covered-dish and table service.

The committee in charge includes: Mrs. Glenn L. Bream, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf, Mrs. Charles H. Smith, Mrs. Fred Bryson, Mrs. Riley Heckert, Mrs. Kermit Deardorff and Mrs. J. Donald Swope.

HELD FOR COURT

Mark A. Sanders, Gettysburg R. 2, was held for sentence court Tuesday afternoon by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a female minor. He furnished $500 bail. Sanders was the fifth arrest by state police on this charge, involving the same juvenile.

COUPLE TO WED

A marriage license has been issued at the court house here to John Eugene Shultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Shultz, New Oxford R. 2, and Jean Claire Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Henry Miller, Abbottstown.

B-29s Rain Destruction On Enemy's Staging Bases

Seoul, Nov. 22 (AP)—Bombers blasted Communist staging bases in northeast Korea today as infantry patrols probed along the entire front to find where the Reds plan to make a stand.

Waves of superforts rained 140,000 pounds of high explosives on the Musan border area while other B-29s struck the port of Chongjin, 45 miles to the southeast. It was the second strike in a week at Musan.

North Koreans are reported re-organizing and Chinese Reds concentrating at Musan to block the United Nations' march toward the Soviet Siberian border.

U.N. Flag On Border

Musan is 80 miles northeast of Hyesanjin, where U. S. Seventh Division troops raised the U.N. blue and white flag Tuesday on the Yalu river opposite Red Manchuria. Other Seventh Division Infantrymen went hunting for a fight with two Communist battalions reported to be holed up 100 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

General MacArthur's war summary in Tokyo reported: "United Nations forces continued to advance generally along the entire Korean battle front yesterday (Tuesday)." Here's the way the front looked from east to west: East coast—eight inch guns of the U. S. cruiser St. Paul paved the way for the Republic of Korea (ROK) Capital Division pushing "a retreating disorganized enemy" toward Siberia.

Border Quiet

South Koreans were eight miles south of Chongjin, port city 55 miles from the Soviet border where the Reds apparently were preparing to make a stand. B-29s bombed Chongjin after Marine airmen ran into heavy antiaircraft fire there.

Manchurian border—The Seventh Division's 17th Regimental Combat Team dug in around Hyesanjin. It reported no sign of enemy activity on either side of the 100-yard wide Yalu river which divides Korea from Red China's Manchuria.

Other Seventh Division elements, 15 miles to the south, struggled with faulty maps and bad roads in an effort to find and wipe out two Communist battalions. The Reds were in Samsu, 10 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

ANNUAL XMAS SEALS APPEAL IS MADE TODAY

Five thousand letters, each containing one or more sheets of Christmas seals, have been mailed by the Adams County Tuberculosis society. In letters accompanying the seals, Attorney Eugene R. Hartman, president of the society, points out that "your contribution to the Adams County Tuberculosis society through the purchase of Christmas seals during the past year has provided the means to detect and treat many of your neighbors, local Adams countians, who have been victims of tuberculosis."

The 1949 Christmas Seal campaign netted the local society approximately $3,000.

Must Continue Service

"We cannot stop this work now," Mr. Hartman's letter continues. "Tuberculosis never stops, and therefore our work and treatment cannot stop. The x-ray mobile unit x-rayed free of charge all ninth grade pupils, athletes, teachers, bus drivers and other school employees, totaling 1,350 free x-rays. This service was also available to all individuals and industries for a nominal fee."

Among other services listed by Mr. Hartman are clothing supplied for local indigent persons at Mont Alto, instruction for school nurses in carrying out a health program and other means to stamp out tuberculosis.

"Make your contribution as liberal as possible," the letter urges. Additional sheets of stamps may be obtained from Miss Helen Spangler, executive secretary.

13 County Banks Will Send $429,157 To 6,261 Christmas Club Members By December 1st.

Thirteen Adams county banks soon will place in the mails checks representing the largest distribution of pre-holiday shopping funds ever accumulated in this county by Christmas club members.

By December 1 the Christmas club savings, which this year soared to a new record high in Adams county of $429,157, will be in the hands of the 6,261 club members.

The average check this year will be for $68.54.

Last year 12 banks distributed $400,021 to 6,019 countians with the average check being $66.46.

Open 1951 Clubs

Part of the growth in the Christmas club figures in Adams county this year was due to the formation of a club by another bank, the East Berlin National. Now only the Abbottstown State bank is without a Christmas club in this county. All banks conducting clubs this year are preparing to open 1951 clubs soon.

The largest Christmas club sum in the county was at the Gettysburg National bank where 1,553 members will be mailed checks totaling $112,758.25. This report compares with the $101,189.80 sent to 1,449 members last year.

The largest club membership in the county was attained by the First National bank of Gettysburg where there were 1,625 accounts with a total balance of $96,000. Last year that bank reported 1,618 members in its club and they received $95,250. Checks go out December 1.

Third Largest Club

The Littlestown State bank continued in third position with a club that numbered 783 and saved $58,400 during the year. The checks will be mailed December 1. Last year that bank had 788 club members and their savings totaled $55,985.

Brady cited prisons in Adams and Bradford counties as institutions that approach idealistic conditions.

MISSING COUNTY SOLDIER KILLED IN KOREAN WAR

Cpl. William M. Baumgardner, Fairfield R. 1, the first Adams county soldier reported missing in action during the Korean war, has now been officially listed as killed in action. His death occurred July 12 according to a War Department telegram received by his mother Mrs. Sarah E. Baumgardner, Fairfield R. 1, the same date that he was listed as missing in action in Korea. The telegram gave no further details, adding that they would be sent later.

When she received the telegram on July 27 stating that her son was missing in action the 80 year old Mrs. Baumgardner expressed the hope that her son would return. "He always knew how to take care of himself," she said. At the same time she seemed reconciled to the loss, telling a reporter, "That's what you've got to expect when they're in the army." Corporal Baumgardner had served nearly 20 years in the army.

Native Of County

Born on the small farm, where his mother lives, on September 19, 1906, he attended school for a short time and then went to work as a handyman, painter and carpenter in Fairfield, Gettysburg and elsewhere in Adams county.

His father, Elmer died 17 years ago. Baumgardner served in the army prior to World War II, and then when that war began he reenlisted. He went to Japan on July 4, 1949.

The news of his death came at a time when three of Corporal Baumgardner's seven children are scheduled to be home for the Thanksgiving holiday. The three, Paul, a student at Penn State; Barbara, a student at Western Maryland college. Westminster, and Robert, Harrisburg, are scheduled to arrive today to visit with their grandmother and with their uncles and aunts. ## NATIONAL PARK SERVICE STAFF WORK OUTLINED BY DR. COLEMAN

The staff and employees of the Gettysburg National Park office have many and varied duties, one of the most important of which is the maintenance of friendly and courteous relations with the public. Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent, told members of the Exchange club at its regular weekly dinner meeting at Bankert's restaurant Tuesday night.

The public relations part of the work involves answering many questions relative to the battlefield and the events which transpired here during and since the battle, he said. "Some of these questions may verge on the ridiculous, but all of them receive courteous answers," he said.

Supervises 4 Shrines

"We recently received a letter from a Franklin county resident asking if the peace light had been burning continuously since the Civil war," he said. "Of course, we answered the letter and told her that the light had been burning since the erection of the memorial, but was not lit immediately after the war."

"The Gettysburg office does the buying and the bookkeeping for not only the Gettysburg national park and cemetery, but for Fort McHenry, Antietam and Fort Neessy, Dr. Coleman said. He is in charge of all four national shrines.

"We have 115 buildings to look after," he said. "Here in Gettysburg there are 30 miles of roads and 90 miles of fences to be kept in repair. There are 405 cannons to be painted. And not the least of our tasks is in making our appropriation stretch as far as possible. We now receive $80,000 a year, compared to $50,000 several years ago, when laborers could be hired for 40 cents an hour."

Dr. Coleman said that the work of government employees is often difficult and at times dangerous. He cited the park wardens, forest rangers, coast guard, secret service and other branches of government service where employees face hard work, difficult tasks and perform duties involving great danger in the course of their ordinary employment.

In the enforcement of battlefield regulations, the governing factor is the use of "common sense," he said. (Continued on Page 4)

REAL ESTATE DEALER FROM YORK ON TRIAL

Whether H. Jay Huff, York real estate dealer, is guilty of fraudulent conversion in connection with the sale of property of Martin Diller, Abbottstown, was being considered by an Adams county jury today.

Huff, according to the testimony of the Commonwealth this morning, is charged with having received $2,850 for a farm and with having paid $2,025 to the Dillers from the transaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Diller told the jury that they had agreed to sell the property for $2,200 with Huff as the agent. After the property was sold, they said, they received $2,025 from Huff, or $2,200 minus Huff's 7 1/2 per cent commission.

Harry King, the purchaser of the six-acre tract near Abbottstown said he paid $2,850 to Huff for the property. Huff is charged with having converted $650 to his own use, the difference between the $2,200 asked by the Dillers and the $2,850 for which he sold the land.

Four Women On Jury

Victor Dell'Alba and Benjamin Weinbron, York attorneys, are representing Huff, with Attorney J. Francis Yake, Jr., as local counsel.

The jury hearing the case includes Mrs. Alma Bowers, Stevens street; William Chritman, Chambersburg street; Clarence W. Epley, Jr., 257 Highland avenue; John H. Flickinger, Littlestown; Lewis H. Fox, Littlestown; James Gallagher, Cashtown; James Harper, Fairfield; Pauline Kemper, Gettysburg R. 4; Mrs. Naomi Lippy, Littlestown R. 1; P. S. Peters, Bendersville; Henry Wagner, Table Rock, and Mrs. Thelma Znea, South Washington street.

The court Tuesday signed a decree nisi barring W. H. Lanus, his heirs and assigns from any right to land on which the Gettysburg borough sewer system is now located. Under the action the Lanus heirs now have 30 days in which to protest or the title to the land will be declared quiet and the borough full owners of the property.

Salome M. Stewart, Tent No. 55, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, November 16, 1950, Gettysburg Borough Council, Mr. H. M. Oyer, President, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, Gentlemen:

The officers and members of our Tent have decided to add to the protest against the proposed removal of the center plot in Lincoln Square. We echo the sentiments of the Sons of Union Veterans and their Auxiliary.

In Chambersburg and Hanover, the center plots are retained, and the space is utilized for markers which commemorate particular events which occurred before and during the Battle of Gettysburg. Why cannot Gettysburg do the same?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Esther Hayberger,
President.

ALTER PATTERN FOR YEARLY "AG" SESSIONS HERE

This year's annual meeting of the Adams County Agricultural Extension association will be held at morning and afternoon sessions at the court house here during the period between Christmas and New Years Day. The exact date has not been set.

Those decisions were made by the executive board of the extension association at its meeting Tuesday evening at the Adams Electric offices on North Stratton street. For the past several years the annual meeting has been held in the form of an evening session.

The board voted to revert to the all-day sessions again this year, believing that as a result more members can attend the meetings. By placing the time between Christmas and New Year's, it was felt, more 4-H members, who, during that time are on vacation from school, can attend.

To Realign Districts

County Superintendent of Schools J. Floyd Slaybaugh spoke to the committee Tuesday evening on the various school jointures established in the county.

B-29s Rain Destruction On Enemy's Staging Bases

Seoul, Nov. 22 (AP)—Bombers blasted Communist staging bases in northeast Korea today as infantry patrols probed along the entire front to find where the Reds plan to make a stand.

Waves of superforts rained 140,000 pounds of high explosives on the Musan border area while other B-29s struck the port of Chongjin, 45 miles to the southeast. It was the second strike in a week at Musan.

North Koreans are reported reorganizing and Chinese Reds concentrating at Musan to block the United Nations' march toward the Soviet Siberian border.

U.N. Flag On Border

Musan is 80 miles northeast of Hyesanjin, where U. S. Seventh Division troops raised the U.N. blue and white flag Tuesday on the Yalu river opposite Red Manchuria. Other Seventh Division Infantrymen went hunting for a fight with two Communist battalions reported to be holed up 100 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

General MacArthur's war summary in Tokyo reported: "United Nations forces continued to advance generally along the entire Korean battle front yesterday (Tuesday)." Here's the way the front looked from east to west: East coast—eight inch guns of the U. S. cruiser St. Paul paved the way for the Republic of Korea (ROK) Capital Division pushing "a retreating disorganized enemy" toward Siberia.

Border Quiet

South Koreans were eight miles south of Chongjin, port city 55 miles from the Soviet border where the Reds apparently were preparing to make a stand. B-29s bombed Chongjin after Marine airmen ran into heavy anti-aircraft fire there.

Manchurian border—The Seventh Division's 17th Regimental Combat Team dug in around Hyesanjin. It reported no sign of enemy activity on either side of the 100-yard wide Yalu river which divides Korea from Red China's Manchuria.

Other Seventh Division elements, 15 miles to the south, struggled with faulty maps and bad roads in an effort to find and wipe out two Communist battalions. The Reds were in Samsu, 10 miles southwest of Hyesanjin.

Bullets Seek To Mar F. And M.'s Perfect Record On Thursday; Bream Forced To Revamp Lineup

What may well be one of the largest crowds ever to witness a Gettysburg-Franklin and Marshall college football game is expected to be on hand Thanksgiving Day at 2 o'clock when the teams clash for the 53rd time in their long series at Williamson field, Lancaster.

All reserved seats have long since been sold at Lancaster while only a few remain here.

Football enthusiasm has reached a fever pitch in Lancaster where the Diplomats are aiming at their first undefeated season in history.

Woody Sponaugle's outfit has swept through eight straight games without defeat. They have not been scored upon in the last six tussles and have permitted only 21 points this season to give them the 11th spot nationally in small college defensive performances.

Westerdahl In Lineup

Among the offensive stars for F. and M. is Bruce Westerdahl, end, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Westerdahl, East Middle street, who starred as a Gettysburg high player for three years.

Talk is rife in Lancaster that three bowl bids for the Diplomats hinge on the outcome of the Turkey Day classic and it is needless to say the Lancaster countians are fired to the highest pitch of the season for the coming game.

"Hen" Bream's Bullets hold a 24-23 edge in the long series between the schools while five games ended in deadlocks. The Bullets have won the last four engagements, triumphing last year 39-7.

Misfortune struck early in the Bullet camp this season and a continuous string of almost unbelievable severe mishaps has reduced what had been considered a very promising squad to its present under-dog status for Thursday's game.

Bullets in New Roles

Coaches Bream, Yovicin and Shainline, who have become veterans of revamping their lineups each week due to injuries to players, have announced a new defensive outfit for the F. and M. tilt. Don Emert, offensive end, will switch to a halfback position when the team is on the defense while Don Young, halfback, will be given a defensive role for the first time in his collegiate career. Jim Lantz, guard, will be used exclusively on the defense as a man-power saver. Len Nugent moving into the offensive guard spot.

Those tactics were necessitated by the loss of Tom Faulkner, the leading ground gainer, and Bill Ewing, a fine guard, who fractured their legs during the Albright contest.

F. and M. will rely heavily on the running of Jack Lowder, 185-pounder from Steelton, who has scored 10 TDs this year and is one of the high individual scorers in the state. Bob Wers, will direct the T-attack from quarterback.

Gettysburg and F. and M. have met four common opponents this season. The Bullets downed Western Maryland 19-0 and the Diplomats turned the trick 25-0. Johns Hopkins bowed to Gettysburg 46-14 and to F. and M. 14-2. The Bullets nipped Dickinson 7-6 as compared to F. and M.'s 7-0 verdict. F. and M. downed Albright 14-0 who defeated the locals 14-12.

Since inauguration of the series in 1890, one of the longest in the state, upsets have been frequent and Coach Bream is pulling hard for his outfit to rise to the occasion.

Ten in Final Game

Ten Bullet seniors will be in uniform for the last time. They include: Ends, Emert and Larry Johnson; tackles, Larry Antonik and John Hershberger; guards, Lantz and Nugent; backs, Ditty Jones, Bob McCoy, Jack Schellhaas and Young; Dwight Speaker, Ronnie Fitzkee and Tom Faulkner, who are out with injuries, are also seniors.

A victory for the Bullets on Thursday would do much to blot out the memories of a rugged year which shows three wins against five setbacks.

For the stay-at-home fans the game will be broadcast by Gettysburg radio station, WGFT.

20 TO RECEIVE G.H.S. LETTERS

Twenty members of the Gettysburg high school football squad will receive letter awards during the assembly program at the high school next Wednesday morning.

Coach Howard Shoemaker today announced the following letter winners:

Although only seniors, Staley and Eberhart will be ineligible next year due to the age limit.

The Kalmucks are the last known organized community among descendants of Genghis Khan's Golden Horde, according to the National Geographic Society.

SHOTTON, MEYER, MARION HINTED FOR MANAGERS

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Paging Burt Shotton, Bill Meyer and Marty Marion. Stand by for a phone call. You look like the best bets for the three open big league managing jobs.

This is no exclusive, no "it was learned" story. Just the best gossip available after talking to a couple of men who should know.

Shotton seems to be in the strongest position of the three. It is expected his reappointment as Brooklyn boss will be announced as soon as the football teams vacate a sports page headline.

When Branch Rickey sold out his dog stock, it was taken for granted Shotton, a Rickey man, would not be back. Now it seems that was wrong.

Unless there is a storm of protest from the Dodger customers, Burt probably will be back for another term.

Chuck Dressen, a Brooklyn coach under Leo Durocher, is a Dodger possibility. It is reported he has strong support from one of the new Dodger vice presidents.

Pee Wee Reese, the popular Dodger shortstop, probably is the manager of the future. Reluctance to combine playing full time and managing, plus a loyalty to Shotton is likely to delay Pee Wee's debut until 1952 or later.

Meyer May Remain

In Pittsburgh, Rickey still is making up his mind about Meyer. The skipper from Knoxville still has another year to go on his contract. After a conference with Rickey, Billy went home knowing little more than when he arrived.

Insiders at Pittsburgh say Meyer has a 60-40 chance of returning. Lou Boudreau, deposed Cleveland manager, has the best chance of the others.

Rickey has talked business with Boudreau with the managing job in view. Boudreau undoubtedly will accept if Rickey decides to make a change.

Fred Saigh still is going through his list of candidates for the St. Louis job vacated by Eddie Dyer. An original field of 18 is being narrowed day by day.

Marion, often mentioned by Saigh as a potential managerial timber, is believed to have the inside track. A personable athlete with natural leadership qualities, Marty is definitely bound for a career as a manager. Whether it will be with the Cardinals in 1951, is up to Saigh.

Bubbler Gridders Guests At Game

The Boiling Springs high school football team members were guests at the University of Pennsylvania-Wisconsin football game Saturday at Franklin Field in Philadelphia. The trip was sponsored by the Lions club of Boiling Springs and the Boiling Springs Boosters club. Transportation was secured through the courtesy of Robert Tritt, of Carlisle.

The trip was arranged as an award for the football team for winning the Twin Valley conference championship. This is the first time in the history of the school that a Boiling Springs football team has won a championship. Other events being held in the football team's honor are three banquets. One of these will be held on December 4 and is being given by Mr. Hurley, father of Bob Hurley, who is a member of the squad. Another banquet will be given by Mrs. Fry, proprietor of Lakeside Inn in Boiling Springs.

The third banquet will be given by Harvey Ensminger, president of the Harrisburg baseball club, who last spring promised the boys a banquet if they were undefeated or won their league championship. Other events will probably be held honoring this team that brought a championship to Boiling Springs.

CAGE LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

A preliminary meeting Tuesday evening was attended by representatives of five teams. They include Robert Sayler, Texas Lunch; Leonard Sites, Glenn L. Bream garage; Claude Rudisill, Motor Market; and Don Sterner and Mark Redding who were representing other teams.

At next Tuesday's meeting officers will be chosen and a schedule planned.

Mr. Joseph announced today that boys' activities for youths between the ages of eight and 15 years will be held at the high school gymnasium Friday afternoon, beginning at 1:30 o'clock, and Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

FOES IN GRID BOWL CONTESTS ARE UNCERTAIN

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Six bowl games were set today but the big attractions—Rose, Sugar Cotton and Orange—must wait until the football sun sets Saturday before anything can be decided.

Only in the Cotton Bowl, where Texas is an assured participant, has any team been definitely chosen. And there's confusion even in Dallas.

Yesterday, for instance, officials of the classic said several teams are under consideration—but no formal invitation had been issued. What prompted the statement was that earlier in Chicago the Big Ten conference had refused to give Michigan State permission to play in the Cotton Bowl.

As of now, it looks like Oklahoma or Tennessee—depending on Saturday's game—will play Texas. Oklahoma meets Nebraska, Tennessee faces Kentucky.

Rose at Pasadena—Illinois vs California.

Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky or Tennessee vs Oklahoma or SMU. Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs Oklahoma or Tennessee.

Orange at Miami—Miami vs Kentucky, Tennessee, Clemson or Wyoming.

Gator at Jacksonville—Several of the above teams are in the running.

West Texas State and the University of Cincinnati accepted bids to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., on New Year's Day.

The Orange Blossom classic at Miami Dec. 2 also was set as Florida A and M and Wilberforce (Ohio) State agreed to meet.

The Presidential Cup game, Washington's Dec. 2 match also was undecided when Maryland's athletic council couldn't make up its mind. Texas A and M was reported still interested. The Aggies might play Georgia.

on the fact that each time she cashed a check she signed a statement on the back of the check that she had truly reported to the assistance board any additional income she may have received. She pointed out that since she could not read or write she had no idea what she was signing when she placed her "X" on the checks.

She had also told the assistance board that her son, Carl, was in school over a period of a year while he actually was working. Her answer was that she had sent her son off to school each morning and that he had come home in the evening and she assumed that he had been to school. She said he had brought home no report cards or other indications that he had been in school.

At one time he was working on construction of a house a few doors away from their home in Fairfield but she said she did not know he was working. Of her son, Carl, she noted, "He don't like school himself. I don't know if he went to school but I got proof I sent my kids to school. That's one thing, we kept our children in school."

She told the jury that when the visitors from the assistance board asked about income she thought they meant "work and I wasn't working." Asked what she thought financial resources were, she answered "I don't know."

William E. Sunday, of the state Department of Public Assistance, was the prosecutor in the case. He said that from March, 1949, until August, 1950, Mrs. Thompson received a total of $366.10 from public assistance, and during that time failed to reveal that she was receiving social security and that her son, Carl, was working.

The jury deliberated for 45 minutes before returning its not guilty verdict. It placed the costs in the case on Mrs. Thompson.

Bullets Seek To Mar F. And M.'s Perfect Record On Thursday; Bream Forced To Revamp Lineup

What may well be one of the largest crowds ever to witness a Gettysburg-Franklin and Marshall college football game is expected to be on hand Thanksgiving Day at 2 o'clock when the teams clash for the 53rd time in their long series at Williamson field, Lancaster.

All reserved seats have long since been sold at Lancaster while only a few remain here.

Football enthusiasm has reached a fever pitch in Lancaster where the Diplomats are aiming at their first undefeated season in history.

Woody Sponaugle's outfit has swept through eight straight games without defeat. They have not been scored upon in the last six tussles and have permitted only 21 points this season to give them the 11th spot nationally in small college defensive performances.

Westerdahl In Lineup
Among the offensive stars for F. and M. is Bruce Westerdahl, end, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Westerdahl, East Middle street, who starred as a Gettysburg high player for three years.

Talk is rife in Lancaster that three bowl bids for the Diplomats hinge on the outcome of the Turkey Day classic and it is needless to say the Lancaster countians are fired to the highest pitch of the season for the coming game.

"Hen" Bream's Bullets hold a 24-23 edge in the long series between the schools while five games ended in deadlocks. The Bullets have won the last four engagements, triumphing last year 39-7.

Misfortune struck early in the Bullet camp this season and a continuous string of almost unbelievable severe mishaps has reduced what had been considered a very promising squad to its present under-dog status for Thursday's game.

Bullets in New Roles
Coaches Bream, Yovicin and Shainline, who have become veterans of revamping their lineups each week due to injuries to players, have announced a new defensive outfit for the F. and M. tilt. Don Emert, offensive end, will switch to a halfback position when the team is on the defense while Don Young, halfback, will be given a defensive role for the first time in his collegiate career. Jim Lentz, guard, will be used exclusively on the defense as a man-power server, Len Nugent moving into the offensive guard spot.

Those tactics were necessitated by the loss of Tom Faulkner, the leading ground gainer, and Bill Ewing, a fine guard, who fractured their hands in the Albright contest.

F. and M. will rely heavily on the running of Jack Lowder, 185-pounder from Steelton, who has scored 10 TDs this year and is one of the high individual scorers in the state. Bob West will direct the T-attack from quarterback.

Gettysburg and F. and M. have met four common opponents this season. The Bullets downed Westminster 19-0 and the Diplomats turned the trick 25-0. Johns Hopkins bowed to Gettysburg 46-14 and to F. and M. 14-2. The Bullets nipped Dickinson 7-6 as compared to F. and M.'s 7-0 verdict. F. and M. downed Albright 14-0 who defeated the locals 14-12.

Since inauguration of the series in 1890, one of the longest in the state, upsets have been frequent and Coach Bream is pulling hard for his outfit to rise to the occasion.

Ten in Final Game
Ten Bullet seniors will be in uniform for the last time. They include: Ends, Emert and Larry Johnson; tackles, Larry Antonik and John Hersherberger; guards, Lentz and Nugent; backs, Ditty Jones, Bob McCoy, Jack Schellhase and Young. Dwight Speaker, Ronnie Fitzkee and Tom Faulkner, who are out with injuries, are also seniors.

A victory for the Bullets on Thursday would do much to blot out the memories of a rugged year which shows three wins against five setbacks.

For the stay-at-home fans the game will be broadcast by Gettysburg radio station, WGET.

SHOTTON, MEYER, MARION HINTED FOR MANAGERS

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Paging Burt Shotton, Bill Meyer and Marty Marion. Stand by for a phone call. You look like the best bets for the three open big league managing jobs.

This is no exclusive, no "it was learned" story. Just the best gossip available after talking to a couple of men who should know.

Shotton seems to be in the strongest position of the three. It is expected his reappointment as Brooklyn boss will be announced as soon as the football teams vacate a sports page headline.

When Branch Rickey sold out his Dodger stock, it was taken for granted Shotton, a Rickey man, would not be back. Now it seems that was wrong.

Unless there is a storm of protest from the Dodger customers, Burt probably will be back for another term.

Chuck Dressen, a Brooklyn coach under Leo Durocher, is a Dodger possibility. It is reported he has strong support from one of the new Dodger vice presidents.

Pee Wee Reese, the popular Dodger shortstop, probably is the manager of the future. Reluctance to combine playing full time and managing, plus a loyalty to Shotton is likely to delay Pee Wee's debut until 1952 or later.

Meyer May Remain

In Pittsburgh, Rickey still is making up his mind about Meyer. The skipper from Knoxville still has another year to go on his contract. After a conference with Rickey, Billy went home knowing little more than when he arrived.

Insiders at Pittsburgh say Meyer has a 60-40 chance of returning. Lou Boudreau, deposed Cleveland manager, has the best chance of the others.

Rickey has talked business with Boudreau with the managing job in view. Boudreau undoubtedly will accept if Rickey decides to make a change.

Fred Saigh still is going through his list of candidates for the St. Louis job vacated by Eddie Dyer. An original field of 18 is being narrowed day by day.

Marion, often mentioned by Saigh as a potential managerial timber, is believed to have the inside track. A personable athlete with natural leadership qualities, Marty is definitely bound for a career as a manager. Whether it will be with the Cardinals in 1951, is up to Saigh.

Bubbler Gridders Guests At Game

The Boiling Springs high school football team members were guests at the University of Pennsylvania-Wisconsin football game Saturday at Franklin Field in Philadelphia. The trip was sponsored by the Lions club of Boiling Springs and the Boiling Springs Boosters club. Transportation was secured through the courtesy of Robert Tritt of Carlisle.

The trip was arranged as an award for the football team for winning the Twin Valley conference championship. This is the first time in the history of the school that a Boiling Springs football team has won a championship. Other events being held in the football team's honor are three banquets. One of these will be held on December 4 and is being given by Mr. Hurley, father of Bob Hurley, who is a member of the squad. Another banquet will be given by Mrs. Fry, proprietor of Lakeside Inn in Boiling Springs.

The third banquet will be given by Harvey Ensminger, president of the Harrisburg baseball club, who last spring promised the boys a banquet if they were undefeated or won their league championship. Other events will probably be held honoring this team that brought a championship to Boiling Springs.

FOES IN GRID BOWL CONTESTS ARE UNCERTAIN

New York, Nov. 22 (AP)—Six bowl games were set today but the big attractions—Rose, Sugar, Cotton and Orange—must wait until the football sun sets Saturday before anything can be decided.

Only in the Cotton Bowl, where Texas is an assured participant, has any team been definitely chosen. And there's confusion even in Dallas.

Yesterday, for instance, officials of the classic said several teams are under consideration—but no formal invitation had been issued. What prompted the statement was that earlier in Chicago the Big Ten conference had refused to give Michigan State permission to play in the Cotton Bowl.

As of now, it looks like Oklahoma or Tennessee—depending on Saturday's game—will play Texas. Oklahoma meets Nebraska, Tennessee faces Kentucky.

Sugar at New Orleans—Kentucky or Tennessee vs Oklahoma or SMU. Cotton at Dallas—Texas vs Oklahoma or Tennessee.

Orange at Miami—Miami vs Kentucky, Tennessee, Clemson or Wyoming.

Gator at Jacksonville—Several of the above teams are in the running. West Texas State and the University of Cincinnati accepted bids to play in the Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex. on New Year's Day.

The Orange Blossom classic at Miami Dec. 2 also was set as Florida A and M and Wilberforce (Ohio) State agreed to meet.

The Presidential Cup game, Washington's Dec. 2 match also was undecided when Maryland's athletic council couldn't make up its mind. Texas A and M was reported still interested. The Aggies might play Georgia.

on the fact that each time she cashed a check she signed a statement on the back of the check that she had truly reported to the assistance board any additional income she may have received. She pointed out that since she could not read or write she had no idea what she was signing when she placed her "X" on the checks.

She had also told the assistance board that her son, Carl, was in school over a period of a year while he actually was working. Her answer was that she had sent her son off to school each morning and that he had come home in the evening and she assumed that he had been to school. She said he had brought home no report cards or other indications that he had been in school.

At one time he was working on construction of a house a few doors away from their home in Fairfield but she said she did not know he was working. Of her son, Carl, she noted, "He don't like school himself. I don't know if he went to school but I got proof I sent my kids to school. That's one thing, we kept our children in school."

She told the jury that when the visitors from the assistance board asked about income she thought they meant "work and I wasn't working." Asked what she thought financial resources were, she answered "I don't know."

William R. Sunday, of the state Department of Public Assistance, was the prosecutor in the case. He said that from March, 1949, until August, 1950, Mrs. Thompson received a total of $386.10 from public assistance, and during that time failed to reveal that she was receiving social security and that her son, Carl, was working.

The jury deliberated for 45 minutes before returning its not guilty verdict. It placed the costs in the case on Mrs. Thompson.

SEEING WITHOUT KNOWING

Probably the most useful and most wonderful gift that man has, outside of, of course, his mind and the organs that keep him alive, is the gift of sight—his eyes. Endless are the opportunities our eyes present to us. The beauty of this earth, the treasures of literature and painting and the miraculous wonders scattered everywhere in nature.

But how much we see without knowing its significance or its hidden secrets. A stranger once watched the painter, Turner, the English artist, at work, and remarked that he never saw such colors as those being put on canvas by the artist. Glancing up, Turner inquired: "Don't you wish you could? As for me, I never can hope to match with pigments the glory I see in the sky."

This summer a friend, who is an expert photographer, took some sunsets at his island retreat. When he had them developed in color and showed them to me, I gasped at their marvelous beauty. There were colors and cloud effects that I had missed appreciating, though those sunsets fascinated me at the time. The camera got them all. I had seen but did not know that so many effects were actually there.

We use these eyes of ours for every hour of the day, outside of sleep, yet how little could we tell of all they had seen during any one of these days! We look upon flowers, and love their beauty, but how few know the intricate design and construction of any one of them. How many of us have seen some outstanding sight, only to be told by someone else who saw it of its real significance.

The picture enthusiast sees anew with his camera. He pays attention to the composition of a picture, to light and shade, and to color effects. He pays attention to things that he never noticed before. He used to see, before he got his camera, but without knowing.

Every day we pass scores of people. We note their faces, their dress, and their manner of walk, but we know nothing of them. We have inward eyes with which to penetrate their minds and hearts, but we would have to know them to do so.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Rich Nature."

COUNSEL FOR CARVERS
I learned it from my father. Long ago he said to me:

"When carving goose or turkey always sharp the knife must be blunt blade you are handed you will merely tear and hack. And the guests that you are serving will think carving skill you lack."

"It's an art to carve at table, for you're under watchful eyes. You must know the joints precisely and just where the wishbone lies."

The legs and thighs are darkest; on the breast the meat is light. When some preference is spoken you must not give dark for light."

"But the knife is most important. Bear in mind this truth you must."

Your carving set to women you must never, never trust. They will use it to cut carpet or linoleum for a shelf."

To be sure it's fit for service, you must care for it yourself."

"You can never cut thin slices with a dull and battered blade. So make sure upon the table near the knife the steel is laid. For a keen edge graces carving. It's the only thing that will, with a dull one you'll be hacking, using strength instead of skill."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SEEING WITHOUT KNOWING

Probably the most useful and most wonderful gift that man can, outside, of course, his mind and the organs that keep him alive, is the gift of sight—his eyes. Endless are the opportunities our eyes present to us. The beauty of this earth, the treasures of literature and painting and the marvellous wonders scattered everywhere in nature.

But how much we see without knowing its significance or its hidden secrets a stranger once watched the painter, Turner, the English artist, at work, and remarked that he never saw such colors as those being put on canvas by the artist. Glancing up, Turner, inquired: "Don't you wish you could? As for me, I never can hope to match with pigments the glory I see in the sky."

This summer a friend, who is an expert photographer, took some sunsets at my island retreat. When he had them developed in color and showed them to me, I gasped at their marvellous beauty. There were colors and cloud effects that I had missed appreciating, though those sunsets fascinated me at the time. The camera got them all, I had seen but did not know that so many effects were actually there.

We use these eyes of ours for every hour of the day, outside of sleep, yet how little could we tell of all they had seen during any one of these days! We look upon flowers, and love their beauty, but how few know the intricate design and construction of any one of them. How many of us have seen some outstanding sight, only to be told by someone else who saw it of its real significance.

The picture enthusiast sees anew with his camera. He pays attention to the composition of a picture, to light and shade, and to color effects. He pays attention to things that he never noticed before. He used to see, before he got his camera, but without knowing.

Every day we pass scores of people. We note their faces, their dress, and their manner of walk, but we know nothing of them. We have inward eyes with which to penetrate their minds and hearts, but we would have to know them to do so.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Rich Nature."

COUNSEL FOR CARVERS

I learned it from my father. Long ago he said to me: "When carving goose or turkey always sharp the knife must be, blunt blade you are handed you will merely tear and hack. And the guests that you are serving will think carving skill you lack."

"It's an art to carve at table, for you're under watchful eyes. You must know the joints precisely and just where the wishbone lies.

The legs and thighs are darkest; on the breast the meat is light. When some preference is spoken you must not give dark for light.

"But the knife is most important. Bear in mind this truth you must, Your carving set to women you must never, never trust.

They will use it to cut carpet or linoleum for a shelf. To be sure it's fit for service, you must care for it yourself.

"You can never cut thin slices with a dull and battered blade. So make sure upon the table near the knife the steel is laid.

For a keen edge graces carving, It's the only thing that will, With a dull one you'll be hacking, using strength instead of skill."

News Of Interest To Home Builders---

Rooms ..... Six
Bedrooms ..... Three
Closets ..... Seven
Cubage ..... 19,500
Dimensions ..... 30' x 40'

In planning "The Bath," that old building rule, "To keep construction costs down, build up," has been carefully followed. Basement excavation and roof expanse have been kept to a minimum, yet the finished house is well adapted to modern living and has a generous amount of closet and cupboard storage space.

Total cubage of "The Bath" is only 19,500 square feet. If a wide lot is to be used for a site, however, a breezeway and garage could be added on the right side of the house.

The gable treatment over the second floor's front windows matches nicely with the gable that tops the simple pilasters of the front door. These roof gables add somewhat to construction costs and could easily be eliminated by anyone operating on a strict building budget.

Although the exterior finish in the illustrated home is of wide painted clapboarding, shingles could easily be substituted if preferred.

The front door opens on a hall with the stairway and a window at the right. A coat closet is located at the left of the stairs just beyond an open arch leading to the living room.

Built-in Bookcases
Measuring 16½ x 14 feet, the living room has two large windows in the front wall, and two small windows flank the fireplace which is centered in the room's outside end wall. Built-in bookcases are located under the windows near the fireplace.

A wide arch connects the dining room and living room, while a small jog of the living room (back of the front hall's coat closet) leads to a door closing off the kitchen. This jog would make an ideal "telephone corner" for the house.

The dining room is 11½ x 8 feet in dimensions and has built-in cabinets in two corners. The room is well lighted by two windows and a French door which opens on the piazza at the rear of the house. This piazza could easily be screened in and would then serve as a splendid summer dining room.

Located at the rear of the house the kitchen has a broom closet just inside the door from the dining room. The U-shaped working counter, with the sink centered under a window looking toward the back yard, ends at another window at the side of the house. The space under this side window is amply large to accommodate a breakfast set. A small space, off the kitchen, leads to the service entry, on the side of the house. Cellar stairs also lead down from this hall.

Laundry Facilities
In the full cement basement the furnace should be installed under the living room and laundry facilities placed below the kitchen. The remainder of the basement could then be partitioned off as desired.

The second floor plan of "The Bath" has the stairs landing on a straight hall corridor which passes the doors of all rooms on this floor. A window at the stairway end of the corridor lights this area.

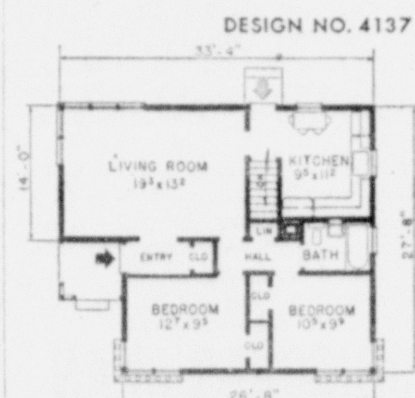

Within the bathroom there is a large linen closet and a smaller closet space. The three bedrooms also have good closet space provided with two closets in the large master bedroom, one closet and two sets of built-in cupboards in the rear bedroom.

This last room, measuring 11 x 10½ feet, has a long wall space that would be ideal for the use of built-in bunk beds. All three bedrooms have windows on two exposures for cross lighting and ventilation.

Insulation is recommended for the side walls, and for over all the second floor room ceilings. Ventilating fans should also be placed in the gable ends of the attic.

Plans Available
Complete plans and specifications for "The Bath" or any other home in this series are available at moderate cost. To ascertain the exact price of these documents, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 18, The Gettysburg Times, and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

WALLPAPER CAN BE EFFECTIVE

Since the middle of the 19th Century wallpaper has been popular as a means of lending interest to walls and it holds today a very definite place in fine decorating. It is obtainable in every price range and in an almost bewildering profusion of patterns and styles. So much so, in fact, that some people hesitate to use it from the sheer inability to make up their minds.

Wallpaper should be chosen with great care and used with discretion if it is to perform its full function in room decoration.

Figured Paper for Hall
Wallpaper can be used to advantage in any room in the house. Halls, for example, where there is often no opportunity to use fabric and little space for furniture, require patterns to make them interesting. Here a figured wallpaper provides color, pattern and a furnished effect.

Dining rooms, which are in use for only a relatively small part of each day, and where the arrangement of furniture is more or less stereotyped and the use of patterns is limited, also lend themselves admirably to the use of wallpaper. The patterns may be large or small, depending on the size of the room and the furnishings. Scenic or excellent selections for dining rooms.

Living-Room Treatment
Another room in which wallpaper is a particularly happy choice is the bedroom. Here it can be gay and colorful or subdued depending on the personality of the occupant. Floral patterns will create a dainty, feminine effect in a bedroom while stylized motifs will give it a masculine feeling.

Used in bathrooms, wallpaper relieves the clinically severe look of a tilled wainscot. Here it is effectively carried over the ceiling as well.

A living room without any architectural features such as a fireplace or a picture window, to make it interesting can be enlivened by the use of a patterned wallpaper on one wall with the other three walls a solid color.

MP Was "There" Long Before Jeering Battlewise Soldier

With U. S. 8th Army, Korea, (AP)—It was on a day when the whole American front surged forward.

The thick dust hung like a yellow fog over every road, and under the dust men and machines moved in pursuit of the enemy. At every road intersection or bridge detour the long elastic lines of vehicles jammed together like a folding accordion.

I stepped out of a command post to hitch a ride just as an armored column ground to a halt. The dust settled and there in front of me was a weapons carrier that had been converted into an open air ambulance.

A young medic was seated on one of two litters that stuck out of the rear of the Ambulance. The other litter was empty. I held up a thumb and the young medic said:

"Climb up, old man—if you can make it."

I made it. A medic inside the ambulance then said to my neighbor on the other litter:

"That's a nice cigar the man is smoking, Junior."

So I pulled out my last cigars and passed them around. Junior bit a big chunk out of the end of his and lit it ineptly. Junior was a big boy with a rough and ready tongue. But his close cropped hair cut and the tiredness in his eyes made him look no more than 18.

"Come on, Red," he said turning to the driver, "let's get on with the war."

Red hesitated a moment, then swung the ambulance out into the road. We went several hundred yards up the motionless column and met a jeep containing a military policeman. He was a small dark man in shiny boots and helmet. His uniform was neatly pressed, his pistol holster and belt were highly polished and a bright scarlet scarf shielded his throat up to the chin.

His task of keeping the straggling vehicles from snarling the road had worn his temper raw.

"Get back in line, damn you," he shouted. Red obediently pulled back into the halted column. But Junior said, "we got the right of way. We're going up after the wounded."

"There aren't any wounded up there yet," snapped the MP.

As he dove slowly by, Junior called loud enough for him to hear:

"I wonder how Little Red Riding Hood figured that out. No MP ever gets that close to the front."

Holds His Temper

A minute later the jeep came back up the road and the small military cop said, "follow me I'll try to get you out of here."

He reddened but said nothing as Junior shouted to one of the medics:

"Hunters! Save On These!

FIRST ATOMIC REACTOR READY

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Nov. 22 (AP)—The first atomic reactor on the vast, new Snake River plains site of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission is nearing completion.

On this new even depend the main hopes for atomic power and possibly most of the hailed blessing something seemed to calm him.

Slowly and deliberately the MP took off his bright scarlet scarf. A wide and terrible scar stretched from his chin down across his throat and disappeared beneath his jacket. It was the kind of a scar a large mortar or artillery shell fragment leaves. And it was only freshly healed.

The MP wiped the dust sweat from his face with the scarf. He rolled the scarf into a ball and tossed it into Junior's lap. Then he stepped back and smiled.

"Good luck, son," he said.

As our vehicle started up the long road one of the medics said to Junior:

"What did you say you were going to do to that MP if you ever catch him up front?"

"Shut up!" said Junior. And nobody looked at Junior for a long time—for fear he might begin to cry.

ling of an atomic age

This reactor, called a breeder pile, is designed for a brilliant, daring and still somewhat doubtful scientific venture, namely to create fuel. At present there is not enough atomic fuel in the entire world for more than a transient power.

This new work is strictly peace, and it has been rapid. The Snake River site is only a year old. It is an undulating, treeless, 400,000-acre expanse of sage brush and ancient lava, with no volcanoes among the bordering mountains. Two other reactors already are started, for naval power, and testing materials. The two are all but lost to view in the great reservation.

The commission announced that the breeder would be completed by the end of this year, but has given no specific dates since "the size is a secret. However, the breeder's announced cost, $3,300,000, marks it as a small brother in a family of giants. The other two are costing respectively $26,000,000 and $18,000,000.

MP Was "There" Long Before Jeering Battlewise Soldier

With U. S. 8th Army, Korea, (AP)—It was on a day when the whole American front surged forward.

The thick dust hung like a yellow fog over every road, and under the dust men and machines moved up in pursuit of the enemy. At every road intersection or bridge detour the long elastic lines of vehicles jammed together like a folding accordion.

I stepped out of a command post to hitch a ride just as an armored column ground to a halt. The dust settled and there in front of me was a weapons carrier that had been converted into an open air ambulance.

A young medic was seated on one of two litters that stuck out of the rear of the Ambulance. The other litter was empty. I held up a thumb and the young medic said:

"Climb up, old man—if you can make it."

I made it. A medic inside the ambulance then said to my neighbor on the other litter:

"That's a nice cigar the man is smoking, Junior."

So I pulled out my last cigars and passed them around. Junior bit a big chunk out of the end of his and lit it expertly. Junior was a big boy with a rough and ready tongue. But his close cropped hair cut and the tiredness in his eyes made him look no more than 18.

"Come on, Red," he said, turning to the driver, "let's get on with the war."

Red hesitated a moment, then swung the ambulance out into the road. We went several hundred yards up the motionless column and met a jeep containing a military policeman. He was a small dark man in shiny boots and helmet. His uniform was neatly pressed, his pistol holster and belt were highly polished and a bright scarlet scarf shielded his throat up to the chin.

His task of keeping the straggling vehicles from snarling the road had worn his temper raw.

"Get back in line, damn you," he shouted. Red obediently pulled back into the halted column. But Junior said, "We got the right of way. We're going up after the wounded."

"There aren't any wounded up there yet," snapped the MP.

As he drove slowly by, Junior called loud enough for him to hear:

"I wonder how Little Red Riding Hood figured that out. No MP ever gets that close to the front."

Holds His Temper

A minute later the jeep came back up the road and the small military cop said, "follow me. I'll try to get you out of here."

He reddened but said nothing as Junior shouted to one of the medics,

"It must be pretty safe still if the little people in pink neckties are going up there. You never can find an MP if the Gooks are coming down the road."

We rode about a mile. Red then pulled back into line as the MP dismounted to clear the path of some vehicles that had massed in double column.

"If I ever see that MP at the front I'll shoot him," said Junior loudly, patting his rifle. The other medics laughed but the little MP never turned his head.

"Right there is where the Gooks overran our old station," said Junior, pointing at a draw in the hills. "We were right near the artillery. They were all around us before we knew it—and they got most of us."

"See that rock up there? A Gook was firing at me. I tried to get back at them with my carbine. I fired 60 rounds at him and missed every time. Then a doughboy next to me lifted up his rifle and knocked off the Gook with one shot."

"I guess that's when I broke down. I just laid on the ground and shook. I guess they'd kept us up here too long. They sent me back to the hospital for a rest. But my nerves are okay now again—I guess. It sure looks peaceful up here now."

The road ahead was clear. The little MP climbed into his jeep and backed up behind us to tell us we could go ahead.

"Well, I guess Little Red Riding Hood is going back to the rear to beat up some more soldiers," Junior said loudly. "It's the only fun an MP ever has. But if I ever catch him at the front I'll—"

Junior paused because the MP had walked around and was standing in front of him. His features were working in wordless anger. But as he glared into Junior's defiant eyes something seemed to calm him. Slowly and deliberately the MP took off his bright scarlet scarf. A wide and terrible scar stretched from his chin down across his throat and disappeared beneath his jacket. It was the kind of a scar a large mortar or artillery shell fragment leaves. And it was only freshly healed.

The MP wiped the dust sweat from his face with the scarf. He rolled the scarf into a ball and tossed it into Junior's lap. Then he stepped back and smiled.

"Good luck, son," he said.

As our vehicle started up the long road, one of the medics said to Junior:

"What did you say you were going to do to that MP if you ever catch him up front?"

"Shut up!" said Junior. And nobody looked at Junior for a long time—for fear he might begin to cry.

FIRST ATOMIC REACTOR READY

Idaho Falls, Idaho, Nov. 22 (AP)—The first atomic reactor on the vast, new Snake River plains site of the U. S. Atomic Energy commission is nearing completion.

On this new oven depend the main hopes for atomic power and possibly most of the heralded blessing of an atomic age.

This reactor, called a breeder pile, is designed for a brilliant, daring and still somewhat doubtful scientific venture, namely to create fuel. At present there is not enough atomic fuel in the entire world for more than transitory power.

This new work is strictly peace, and it has been rapid. The Snake River site is only a year old. It is an undulating, treeless, 400,000-acre expanse of sage brush and ancient lava, with no volcanoes among the bordering mountains. Two other reactors already are started, for naval power, and testing materials. The trio are all but lost to view in the great reservation.

The commission announced that the breeder would be completed by the end of this year, but has given no specific dates since. The size is a secret. However, the breeder's announced cost, $3,300,000, marks it as a small brother in a family of giants. The other two are costing respectively $26,000,000 and $18,000,000.

ling of an atomic age.

As our vehicle started up the long road, one of the medics said to Junior:

"What did you say you were going to do to that MP if you ever catch him up front?"

"Shut up!" said Junior. And nobody looked at Junior for a long time—for fear he might begin to cry.

News Of Interest To Home Builders--

Rooms - Six
Bedrooms - Three
Closets - Seven
Cubage - 19,500
Dimensions - 30' x 40'

In planning "The Bath," that old building rule, "To keep construction costs down, build up," has been carefully followed. Basement excavation and roof expense have been kept to a minimum, yet the finished house is well adapted to modern living and has a generous amount of closet and cupboard storage space.

Total cubage of "The Bath" is only 19,500 square feet. If a wide lot is to be used for a site, however, a breezeway and garage could be added on the right side of the house.

The gable treatment over the second floor's front windows matches nicely with the gable that tops the simple pilasters of the front door. These roof gables add somewhat to construction costs and could easily be eliminated by anyone operating on a strict building budget.

Although the exterior finish in the illustrated home is of wide painted clapboard shingles could easily be substituted if preferred.

The front door opens on a hall with the stairway and a window at the right. A coat closet is located at the left of the stairs just beyond an open arch leading to the living room.

Built-in Bookcases

Measuring 16 1/2 x 14 feet, the living room has two large windows in the front wall, and two small windows flank the fireplace which is centered in the room's outside end wall. Built-in bookcases are located under the windows near the fireplace.

A wide arch connects the dining room and living room, while a small jog of the living room (back of the front hall's coat closet) leads to a door closing off the kitchen. This jog would make an ideal telephone corner for the house.

The dining room is 11' x 8 feet in dimensions and has built-in cabinets in two corners. The room is well lighted by two windows and a French door which opens on the piazza at the rear of the house. This piazza could easily be screened in and would then serve as a splendid summer dining room.

Located at the rear of the house the kitchen has a broom closet just inside the door from the dining room. The U-shaped working counter with the sink centered under a window looking toward the back yard ends at another window at the side of the house. The space under this side window is amply large to accommodate a breakfast set. A small space off the kitchen leads to the service entry, on the side of the house. Cellar stairs also lead down from this hall.

Laundry Facilities

In the full cement basement the furnace should be installed under the living room and laundry facilities placed below the kitchen. The remainder of the basement could then be partitioned off as desired.

The second floor plan of "The Bath" has the stairs landing on a straight hall corridor which passes the doors of all rooms on this floor. A window at the stairway end of the corridor lights this area.

Within the bathroom there is a large linen closet and a smaller closet space. The three bedrooms also have good closet space provided with two closets in the large master bedroom, one closet and two sets of built-in cupboards in the rear bedroom.

This last room measuring 11 x 16 1/2 feet has a long wall space that would be ideal for the use of built-in bunk beds. All three bedrooms have windows on two exposures for cross lighting and ventilation.

Insulation is recommended for the walls, and for over all the second floor room ceilings. Ventilating fans should also be placed in the gable ends of the attic.

Plans Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Bath" or any other home in this series are available at moderate cost. To obtain the complete set of these documents write to the Home Building Editor Dept. 18 The Gettysburg Times and enclose a self-addressed envelope bearing a three-cent stamp. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

WALLPAPER CAN BE EFFECTIVE

Since the middle of the 19th Century wallpaper has been popular as a means of lending interest to walls and it holds today a very definite place in home decorating. It is obtainable in every price range and in an almost bewildering profusion of patterns and styles. So much so in fact that some people hesitate to use it from the sheer inability to make up their minds.

Wallpaper should be chosen with great care and used with discretion if it is to perform its full function in room decoration.

Figured Paper for Hall

Wallpaper can be used to advantage in any room in the house. Halls, for example, where there is often no opportunity to use fabric and little space for furniture require patterns to make them interesting. Here a figured wallpaper provides color pattern and a furnished effect.

Dining rooms which are in use for only a relatively small part of each day and where the arrangement of furniture is more or less stereotyped and the use of patterns is limited also lend them great admirably to the use of wallpaper. The patterns may be large or small, depending on the size of the room and the furnishings. Scenes are excellent selections for dining rooms.

Living-Room Treatment

Another room in which wallpaper is an ideal happy choice is the bedroom. Here a trim of gay and colorful or subdued depending on the personality of the occupant floral patterns will create a dreamy feminine effect in a bedroom while stylized motifs will give it a masculine feeling.

Used in bathrooms wallpaper relieves the clinically severe look of a tiled wall. But it is effectively carried over the ceiling as well.

A living room without any architectural features such as fireplace or a picture window to make interesting can be enhanced by the use of a patterned wallpaper on one wall with the other three walls a solid color.

O. JOHN ROGGE TELLS OFF THE REDS IN PRAGUE

By MAX HALL
Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—O. John Rogge, a hefty man with a hog-caller voice, once did a wrecking job on the Huey Long machine. Later he prosecuted 30 persons in a fantastic mass sedition trial in Washington.

Still later he became associated with numerous "peace" undertakings under Communist sponsorship here and abroad. This week he went behind the Iron Curtain and stuck pins in the Stalinists and made them furious.

In Warsaw, Poland, at one of these world peace meetings that the Communists are forever sponsoring, Rogge got the floor Sunday and dramatically denounced Communist aggression and Communist "religious fanaticism," which he called a roadblock to human progress. The booing was terrific.

Not the First Time
It was not the first time that Rogge had criticized Russia in such meetings, but he had never gone so far before. Not everybody boos. Some delegates from non-Communist countries applauded. There could be no doubt that the Soviet propaganda drive had been dealt a blow.

Rogge (pronounced Roggy) is 46 years old. He was born on a farm in Illinois of German immigrant parents. He made a notable record at the University of Illinois and the Harvard law school.

As a young Chicago lawyer he was called into the government from time to time to prosecute tough cases for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Securities and Exchange Commission and Treasury department.

In 1939 he joined the Justice department as assistant attorney general in charge of the Criminal division. He spent eight months in Louisiana, spreading alarm and prison sentences among political heirs of Huey Long, who had been assassinated in 1935.

Reached Turning Point
Rogge left the department at the end of 1940, but was brought back in 1943 to prosecute the famous mass sedition case. After seven months of courtroom nightmare, the judge died and a mistrial was declared.

Until the sedition case, Rogge had

East Berlin

East Berlin—Larue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Simons, near Germany store, has returned to her classes at Paradise parochial school after being ill with a severe cold.

Mrs. D. Earl Wagner was a visitor seemed utterly oblivious to political considerations or ideologies.

In 1946 came a turning point in his life. He went to Europe to gather evidence for a resumption of the sedition case, and collected a lot of material on American Fascists. He came back zealous and full of fight.

Rogge made a report to Attorney General Tom Clark. Clark didn't publish it. Rogge began making speeches about his findings. Clark fired him on the ground of violating regulations.

Rogge entered private practice in New York and continued his anti-Fascist speeches. The American left wing cheered him. Leftwingers brought him law cases. He became a crusader for civil rights. He plunged into peace movements, and went to Paris, London, Prague, Stockholm, Mexico City and other places to speak at conferences.

Last spring he became a registered lobbyist for the Yugoslav government, which is Communist but anti-Moscow.

That didn't endear him to the Stalinists of the world.

But even before this, he was speaking his mind with increasing frankness at the "peace" meetings. Finally, he has let 'em have it between the eyes.

On this truly American holiday we give thanks for the many blessings He has deigned to deliver on us. We give thanks for the strength He has endowed us with, enabling us to preserve those liberties we have inherited. # "WHAT OYA MEAN... MORE PAYLOAD?"

DODGE "Job-Rated" trucks GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result: there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned. Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

CLAIM WORKING MAJORITY FOR GOP, DIXIECRATS

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—A working majority of at least 45 votes was claimed today by a spokesman for the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition expected to dominate the house in the next Congress.

And across the capitol, southern Democrats were reported lining up behind Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) for majority leader in the new Senate.

The move—disclosed by a Dixie lawmaker who asked not to be named—indicated that southern Senators intend to take full advantage of the strengthened position given them by election defeats of northern and western Democrats.

Stronger Now

The estimate of GOP-Southern Democrat strength in the house came from Rep. Arends of Illinois, the assistant GOP floor leader. While a coalition has been effective there in recent years, the elections gave it added strength.

Arends told reporters the coalition does not propose simply to block portions of President Truman's domestic program and to take a close look at foreign programs. It will offer "constructive" plans of its own, he said.

In the new House convening in January, there will be 199 Republicans, 235 Democrats and one independent. That represents a drop in Democratic strength of 27 votes from the present line-up.

But of the 235 Democrats, about 100 hail from the south, and most southerners have been cool to the President's legislative program.

Backing McFarland

Arends put at 240 votes the "rock bottom" strength of the anti-administration group in the new house. A house majority is 218 votes. Rep. Cox of Georgia, a leader of the southern Democrats, was more liberal. He claimed the coalition could muster at least 252 votes anytime it needs them.

If Arends' more conservative estimate proves right, the administration forces could count on only 195 sure votes.

Southern Senators' backing for McFarland as floor leader apparently is based primarily on the fact

New Oxford

New Oxford—Many persons have been contributing collections of used heavy clothing to the First Lutheran church who is to ship it in a few weeks to the war victims in Europe and Asia, particularly Korea. Anyone wishing to make such a contribution may bring it to the church building on Saturday and Sunday.

Local business places have been solicited by members of the Lions club for contributions to aid their project of decorating Center Square with brilliantly lighted trees during the Christmas season. Private citizens may also contribute. Lions have agreed to contribute the same amount as is the total from the solicitations at the end of the drive.

James L. Myers, former restaurant man, who opened a hardware store on the Square last year, celebrated his first business anniversary at the store over the week-end with free souvenirs to every visitor to the business place.

The Rev. Paul Levi Foulk, Hanover Lutheran minister, spoke Sunday at the First Lutheran church of which the Rev. George E. Sheffer is pastor. His theme was "This Is The Gospel." The Women's Missionary society of the church had its annual Thank Offering at this service.

The Lions club conducted its annual public "Thanksgiving Turkey party" Tuesday evening for the benefit of Community Betterment, in the recently completed hall of the local Social and Athletic club. Prizes of turkeys, ducks and chickens were awarded guests.

The Willing Workers class of St. John's Reformed Church school, New Chester, served the public a turkey supper on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garber were hosts during the week at their home where there was a meeting of the Friendship Circle class of the Phineas Lutheran church, New Chester.

Glenn C. Chronister has returned after a hunting trip taken in company with H. G. Rife.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn I. Myers, who were married in October, are beginning housekeeping here. Mrs. Myers was formerly Miss June Eldridge, Phoenix, Ariz. The couple were recently honored at a dinner party at

HEAVY KILL OF DEER PREDICTED

Harrisburg, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Game commission predicted today hunters will bag more than 130,000 deer in the commonwealth during the 13-day season, opening Nov. 27.

Thomas Frye, commission executive director, said hunters should have little trouble equalling or bettering the 131,000 shot last year.

The 1950 deer season opens Nov. 27 with two days devoted to antlerless deer hunting in all but 14 counties. Bucks can be shot in all counties from Nov. 29 through Dec. 9.

The 14 counties closed to antlerless deer hunting received special permission from the commission to suspend the deer season after submitting enabling petitions.

The two-day deer season, longest since 1940, was fixed by the commission in an effort to cut down the size of Pennsylvania's deer herd now estimated at 700,000. It acted after receiving a flood of complaints from farmers of crop damage by deer.

The doe season gets underway at 9 a.m. Monday, Nov. 27. During the two-day season it will be illegal to shoot antlered or buck deer. Shooting hours during the buck season opening Nov. 29, are from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

A NICKEL IS STILL THE PRICE TO PAY FOR COKE

Year in, year out, through wars and depressions, through good times and bad, the price of Coca-Cola has always been a nickel—the quality has always been the same. Today, in spite of continually rising production and distribution costs, you can still get Coke for 5¢ a bottle, 25¢ a carton, $1.00 a case. We think that's a mighty big value in refreshment.

CLAIM WORKING MAJORITY FOR GOP, DIXIECRATS

Washington, Nov. 22 (AP)—A working majority of at least 45 votes was claimed today by a spokesman for the Republican-Southern Democratic coalition expected to dominate the house in the next Congress.

And across the capitol, southern Democrats were reported lining up behind Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.) for majority leader in the new Senate.

The move—disclosed by a Dixie lawmaker who asked not to be named—indicated that southern Senators intend to take full advantage of the strengthened position given them by election defeats of northern and western Democrats.

Stronger Now
The estimate of GOP-Southern Democratic strength in the house came from Rep. Arends of Illinois, the assistant GOP floor leader. While a coalition has been effective there in recent years, the elections gave it added strength.

Arends told reporters the coalition does not propose simply to block portions of President Truman's domestic program and to take a close look at foreign programs. It will offer "constructive" plans of its own, he said.

In the new House convening in January, there will be 199 Republicans, 235 Democrats and one independent. That represents a drop in Democratic strength of 27 votes from the present line-up.

But of the 235 Democrats, about 100 hail from the south, and most southerners have been cool to the President's legislative program.

Backing McFarland
Arends put at 240 votes the "rock bottom" strength of the anti-administration group in the new house. A house majority is 218 votes.

Rep. Cox of Georgia, a leader of the southern Democrats, was more liberal. He claimed the coalition could muster at least 252 votes anytime it needs them.

If Arends' more conservative estimate proves right, the administration forces could count on only 195 sure votes.

Southern Senators' backing for McFarland as floor leader apparently is based primarily on the fact

New Oxford

New Oxford—Many persons have been contributing collections of used heavy clothing to the First Lutheran church who is to ship it in a few weeks to the war victims in Europe and Asia, particularly Korea. Anyone wishing to make such a contribution may bring it to the church building on Saturday and Sunday.

Local business places have been solicited by members of the Lions club for contributions to aid their project of decorating Center Square with brilliantly lighted trees during the Christmas season. Private citizens may also contribute. Lions have agreed to contribute the same amount as is the total from the solicitations at the end of the drive.

James L. Myers, former restaurant owner, said he voted with them against breaking a filibuster which sheathed the fair employment practices commission (FEPC) bill in the present Congress. With that exception, McFarland is acceptable to President Truman's followers among Senate Democrats and thus would not be as an inviting target for administration attack as some southerners might be.

The present Democratic leader, Senator Lucas, of Illinois, was defeated in re-election.

In the new Senate, the Democrats still outnumber the Republicans only 49 to 47. The lineup now is 54 to 42.

man, who opened a hardware store on the Square last year, celebrated his first business anniversary at the store over the week-end with free souvenirs to every visitor to the business place.

The Rev. Paul Levi Foulk, Hanover Lutheran minister, spoke Sunday at the First Lutheran church of which the Rev. George E. Sheffer is pastor. His theme was "This Is The Gospel." The Women's Missionary society of the church had its annual Thank Offering at this service.

The Lions club conducted its annual public "Thanksgiving Turkey party" Tuesday evening for the benefit of Community Betterment, in the recently completed hall of the local Social and Athletic club. Prizes of turkeys, ducks and chickens were awarded guests.

The Willing Workers class of St. John's Reformed Church school, New Chester, served the public a turkey supper on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garber were hosts during the week at their home where there was a meeting of the Friendship Circle class of the Pines Lutheran church, New Chester.

Glenn C. Chromster has returned after a hunting trip taken in company with H. G. Rife.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn I. Myers, who were married in October, are beginning housekeeping here. Mrs. Myers was formerly Miss June Eldridge, Phoenix, Ariz. The couple were recently honored at a dinner party at

HEAVY KILL OF DEER PREDICTED

Harrisburg, Nov. 22 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Game commission predicted today hunters will bag more than 130,000 deer in the commonwealth during the 13-day season, opening Nov. 27.

Thomas Frye, commission executive director, said hunters should have little trouble equaling or bettering the 131,000 shot last year.

The 1950 deer season opens Nov. 27 with two days devoted to antlerless deer hunting in all but 14 counties. Bucks can be shot in all counties from Nov. 29 through Dec. 9.

The 14 counties closed to antlerless deer hunting received special permission from the commission to suspend the deer season after submitting enabling petitions.

The two-day deer season, longest since 1940, was fixed by the Commission in an effort to cut down the size of Pennsylvania's deer herd now estimated at 700,000. It acted after receiving a flood of complaints from farmers of crop damage by deer.

The doe season gets underway at 9 a.m. Monday, Nov. 27. During the two-day season it will be illegal to shoot antlered or buck deer. Shooting hours during the buck season opening Nov. 29, are from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

RENT CONTROL SOON TO BRING 'SHOOTING WAR'

By MAX HALL
Washington, Nov. 22 (AP) — The cold war over rent controls is about to break out into another shooting spree in Congress. Everybody duck. This happens once or twice each year. But it's a bit different this time. The battlefront will be somewhat hard to trace on the map. Rent controls have been largely in the hands of local communities for some time now, and there is no uniformity in the land.

American cities and towns fall into several groups.
1. Some have never been under rent controls.
2. Some have de-controlled themselves. They decided they no longer needed rent ceilings. So they took advantage of a federal law passed in 1949, and got rid of them. This group includes Miami, San Diego, Oklahoma City and about 400 other communities.
3. Some have been de-controlled on the initiative of the federal government, on the ground that the housing shortage had ended there. More than 500 communities are in this group.
4. Some have been de-controlled by their state legislatures. Examples: All places in Virginia, Alabama, Texas, and Nebraska. New York state went out from under federal controls a year ago but is governed by a state rent control law instead.

5. Some communities have decided to continue rent controls until the middle of next year. A law approved last June permits them to do this, either by action of their governing bodies or by a vote of the people. This group includes Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis and about 700 other places.
6. More than 2,000 communities under federal rent controls have done nothing. And therefore, under the law of last June, their rent controls will automatically end on December 31, unless they take action to extend them—or unless Congress does. This large group embracing perhaps 40,000,000 people, includes Cleveland, Cincinnati, Baltimore, San Francisco, Kansas City, Seattle, Atlanta, and New Orleans.

When the old 81st Congress meets next Monday for its brief final session, it must decide what to do about the last group described above.

President Truman wants the cutoff date extended three months beyond December 31. This is, until March 31. This would give the new 82nd Congress three months to argue the whole thing out after it meets in January.

The Truman administration also wants Congress, sooner or later, to give housing expediter Tighe E. Woods the power to restore rent ceilings in areas that have de-controlled.

The 20 members and five visitors present joined in a song service, accompanied on the piano by Miss Louise Duttera. A reading, "Thanksgiving Invention, Poor John," was given by Mrs. Theron W.
